WHAT IS IKFF?

International Kids Film Festival (IKFF) is a first-of-its-kind global film festival held in schools across 20+ countries since 2017. It provides a unique & engaging opportunity for students to WATCH the best of international children's films, LEARN the art of film making & MAKE their first film.

WHY IKFF?

In the world of audio visual content, literacy is no more only about reading & writing. Watching good films & learning how to create AV content is basic literacy today. Exposing children to different languages, cultures, emotions, challenges etc. through films is imperative. The best independent films made for children are not available in mainstream channels. Film festivals are the only occasions where children get to watch them and a very few of them get an opportunity to participate in film festivals. So we had an idea...

Kids don't go to film festivals, let's take the festival to the kids!

This thought gave birth to IKFF. A first of its kind global film festival hosted in schools, by schools, for schools. It uses Film Pedagogy (teaching through films) to introduce kids to the magic of international films and utilizes its power to educate & inspire.

WATCH

Screening of award winning children's films made by independent filmmakers from across the world.

LEARN

Film workshops, master-classes & sessions curated by industry experts to help children develop an understanding of the various aspects of filmmaking & visual storytelling.

MAKE

World's largest student film-making competition providing a platform for young filmmakers to showcase their talent.
